Indiana University Athletic Director Bill Orwig retires this year after fourteen years of service to his school, the Big Ten and intercollegiate athletics. He will be sorely missed, for his contributions were numerous and noteworthy. We at the Ohio State University would like to take this opportunity to wish Mr. Orwig the very best in all his future endeavors.

BUCKEYES' HYATT DEFIES THE ODDS

Dark-haired Bob Hyatt grew up in the tiny, northern Ohio community of Lagrange with one ambition. He wanted to play football at Ohio State.

But even though he rewrote the Lorain County rushing records at Keystone High School with over 3,000 career yards and received scholarship offers from more than 50 colleges, the 5-10, 180-pound tailback was passed over by the Buckeyes.

That didn't stop Hyatt, however. Unyielding in his desire to play in Columbus, the determined 18-year old, who won 13 high school letters, enrolled at Ohio State in the fall of 1973 and tried out for the team as a walk-on.

The odds were not in his favor. The Buckeye coaching staff had done its job well the previous spring and had 24 prize recruits in the Ohio State fold. Then there was the little matter of 17 regulars and 45 lettermen returning from the 1972 team which had posted a 9-2 record and shared the Big Ten title.

To further complicate matters, Hyatt was a running back — a position where the Buckeyes were loaded with talent. With the likes of Archie Griffin, Brian Baschnagel, Tim Holycross and Woody Roach returning, Hyatt had chosen the worst of all possible positions on the OSU squad.

But Hyatt, who had earned first team all-Ohio honors as a junior and second team recognition as a senior, never waived.

"I came here believing that I could make the team," he recalls. "I had waited for this chance all my life and I felt down deep inside that I had the ability to play for the Buckeyes."

His confidence paid off.

The Ohio State coaches soon began to notice the sturdily built youngster with the flare for running to daylight and the dependable hands. That kind of all around ability soon got him a look at wingback and split end and he was so impressive in his audition, that when the time came for most walk-ons to go, Hyatt stayed.

The Lagrange native was put on the scout team—the unit that simulates the opponent's offense prior to each game. As such, he was subjected daily to running against the Buckeyes' first team defense, one of the top defense units in the country. It was a tough, bruising introduction to college football.

"I was battered and bruised every night," he recalls. "But I was playing football and I was playing for Ohio State."

"I knew, too, that I was gaining valuable experience by playing against so many good defensive players."

One of the coaches most impressed by Hyatt's grittiness was defensive coordinator George Hill.

"Bob was out there everyday no matter what," remembers Hill. "He took some real shots, but he always came back for more and he never gave us a bad practice."

Bob Hyatt

Reports of Hyatt's progress soon began to trickle down to the offense. Those reports opened the door for some practice sessions with the Buckeyes' first two offensive units and he again distinguished himself.

"Bob was a hard person to ignore," says Buckeye boss Woody Hayes. "When we brought him up, he always did well whether we used him at split end or wingback."

Hyatt's first game action came in the opener against visiting Minnesota. He played the final play of the Buckeyes' 56-7 victory.

"I was nervous, very nervous," he admits. "I ran out on the field in kind of a daze. When we ran the play I forgot what we had called so I just went downfield and looked for someone to block."

Hyatt also played against Northwestern, Michigan State and Iowa, all home games. He didn't make any road trips and wasn't on the 60-man travel squad that went to the Rose Bowl, but when he came back to school for the start of Winter Quarter he received a better New Year's present than a trip to Pasadena—a full scholarship.

"You could have knocked me over when they told me," says Hyatt. "The coaches had mentioned that I might get some aid but I never imagined it would be a full ride."

Hyatt has continued his superb play this season as a sophomore.

He has made the travel squad and is a member of the specialty unit. Last week against Wisconsin he returned a kickoff 36 yards to give the Buckeyes excellent field position at a crucial time.

Bob Hyatt has come a long way since that first day of practice last fall and he has done it with hard work and a belief in a dream.

stand up and be counted.

Now sit down and count the cash in your wallet.

Today you're big on spirit.

But your wallet might be short on money. Or maybe you just don't like to carry a lot of cash. That could be a problem if a little later you want to celebrate or just have a comfortable dinner.

But keep on cheering. Because if you have a Master Charge® card from a bank that has an Anytime Bank^(SM) machine, you're in luck. Anytime Bank is a 24-hour service of affiliates of BancOhio Corporation, Ohio's only statewide banking organization.

You can get instant cash from your checking account or a Master Charge cash advance right here in Columbus at Ohio National's Anytime Bank machines at 16 locations all around town.

The nearest is located on Olen-tangy River Road just north of the stadium. But whatever direction you're headed, there's probably an Ohio National Anytime Bank machine along the way.

Of course, at home you can use the Anytime Bank machines for a lot more than just getting cash.

Your Master Charge card from any of the following BancOhio affiliates can get you instant cash from any bank listed. Any of them can provide the addresses of Anytime Bank machines all around Ohio.

BEFORE THE GAME

By Steve Snapp

Assistant Sports Information Director

Wisconsin coach John Jardine came to Columbus last week expecting his Badgers to give Ohio State an acid test for supremacy in the Big Ten. He left thinking that a saliva test might be more in order for the Buckeyes who looked almost super-human in disposing of their visitors 52-7.

Jardine, in his fifth season at Wisconsin, labeled this Ohio State team the best he has seen.

"If I had known Ohio State was going to be this good, I would have stayed home," he said after the game. "I saw them on film against Washington State and they were good, but they were a whole lot better against us."

That last statement is just the kind of praise Woody Hayes loves to hear half-way through the season.

"At this time of year a team is either getting better or worse, never standing still," evaluates the Buckeye mentor. "We feel that we are improving and I think the Wisconsin game proved it."

It did, in spades, although it is hard to determine who deserves more credit, the offense or the defense. A convincing case can be made for both sides.

The offense scored the first four times it had the ball in the first half and was on the move again as time ran out. There was no let up after intermission either as the line continued to blow gaping holes in the Wisconsin defense and the Buckeye backs slithered and powered their way for four more touchdowns. In eleven possessions, Ohio State rolled up 449 yards and scored eight times in an awesome display of brute strength.

If the defense was less impressive, it was only because of a perfectly executed 80-yard drive that gave Wisconsin a 7-0 lead six plays after the opening kickoff. After that, the Badgers, who had been averaging 32 points a game, got nothing. Ohio's front four and linebackers took care of the Wisconsin running game and the Buckeyes' deep secondary thwarted quarterbacks Gregg Bohlig and Dan Kopina by picking off five interceptions.

Bohlig had entered the game as the Big Ten's leading passer, but a 7 of 17 day did nothing to enhance that standing.

The Buckeyes, on the other hand, received a superlative performance from quarterback Cornelius Greene who hit five of seven attempts for 81 yards and one touchdown. The quick-silver junior also rushed for 146 yards, turning in his best all-around performance of the year.

If Greene won the battle of the quarterbacks, Archie Griffin won the battle of the tailbacks with Badger speedster Billy Marek. Griffin piled up 112 yards in 18 carries, while Marek managed just 77 on 16 tries.

Griffin has now surpassed the 100-yard rushing mark in 16 straight games, but because the NCAA does not recognize bowl games, the junior All-American still has two games to go before he matches Steve Owens' record of 17 straight.

After last week's showing against a highly-touted opponent like Wisconsin, a letdown might be expected today against Indiana's 1-4 Hoosiers. It might be, that is, if anyone besides Woody Hayes was head coach.

"Don't worry about a letdown," Hayes says when talking about the Hoosiers, who rocked Minnesota 34-3 last week. "Just look at what Indiana did last week to a team that gave us a pretty good tussle."

"It's obvious to me that Indiana is improving and that means we will play this game with the same determination that we did the first five games."

The Hoosiers offense depends on a balanced attack that has produced 780 yards passing and 741 yards on the ground this season.

Terry Jones, a strong-armed, 5-11 sophomore, is the Hoosier quarterback. He has hit on 62 of 101 passes this season for 615 yards and four scores.

Rangy Trent Smock, who led the Big Ten in receiving last year, heads an outstanding receiving corps. Smock has 18 catches so far this year.

Jones also has been successful throwing to his running backs. Courtney Snyder who leads the team in rushing with 520 yards, has 16 receptions and fullback Dennis Cremeens 12. Flanker Keith Calvin has 11 for the Hoosiers.

Mike Flanagan gives Jones yet another sure-handed receiver, but the senior flanker has missed the past two games with a leg injury and is questionable today.

The Buckeyes also have some injury problems.

Linebacker Ken Kuhn will miss today's game with a shoulder sprain. He will be replaced by junior Ed Thompson who filled in superbly last week with 12 tackles. Cornerback Tim Fox and defensive tackle Pete Cusick are questionable starters. Both have minor knee injuries.

Back of the Week

CORNELIUS GREENE — QUARTERBACK — Enjoyed his best all around performance of the year last week with 146 yards rushing and 81 yards passing against Wisconsin. Scored two touchdowns against the Badgers on runs of 11 and six yards and had a six yard TD pass to Brian Baschnagel. Hit five of seven aerials against Wisconsin, including his last five. Has completed 22 of 36 this year for 310 yards and three touchdowns. His completion and touchdown total this year already surpasses his entire 1973 output. His two touchdowns last week tie him with Archie Griffin for the team scoring lead with 36 points.

Buck of the Week

BRUCE RUHL — SAFETY — Moved into the lineup after regular Rich Parsons suffered a broken arm against Southern Methodist. Made three interceptions last week against Wisconsin and returned one for 28 yards to thwart the Badgers' passing attack. Also made six tackles, including three solos, and was credited with a touchdown save. Was named to the United Press International Backfield of the Week for his performance. The 6-1, 188-pound Southfield, Mich. native has 11 tackles since taking over for Parsons.

INDIANA PLAYERS TO WATCH

COURTNEY SNYDER — HALFBACK — The workhorse of the Indiana running attack. Has carried the ball 119 times this year for 520 yards and three touchdowns. Has a 4.2 average per carry and is averaging 104 yards a game. Has also caught 16 passes for 88 yards. His top game came last week against Minnesota when he rushed for 160 yards, including 148 in the first half.

TRENT SMOCK — TIGHT END — Can play flanker, split end or tight end and has played all three this year. Still just a junior, the 6-5 standout is zeroing in on the Hoosiers' all-time reception record. Has 18 grabs this season for 353 yards and two touchdowns. Led the Big Ten in receiving last year with 36 receptions for 505 yards. Also a member of the Indiana basketball squad.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY

One of the oldest state universities west of the Alleghenies, Indiana University is a pioneer in the program of higher education in the Midwest. It was founded in 1820 as Indiana State Seminary, designated Indiana College by the General Assembly in 1828 and became Indiana University in 1838. It is chartered by the Assembly as "The University of the State" and, as such, is head of the public school system of Indiana.

Indiana University has grown from this beginning to a Bloomington campus of 1,850 wooded acres and a 1974 total of 30,714 full-time undergraduate students, plus an additional 39,000 at the Indianapolis and regional campuses.

There are three major divisions within the University: 1. Indiana University at Bloomington; 2. Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis; 3. Regional campuses at South Bend, Fort Wayne, Northwest (East Chicago-Gary), Kokomo, Southeast (Jeffersonville-New Albany) and East (Richmond).

The University offers degrees in more than 60 fields through the College of Arts and Sciences; Graduate School; The Normal College of American Gymnastic Union; Schools of Business, Dentistry, Education, Health-Physical Education-Recreation, Law, Medicine, Music, Nursing and the Herron School of Art; and Divisions of University Extensions, Social Service, General and Technical Studies, Optometry, Biological Sciences, Allied Health Sciences, Personnel and the University Division.

Residence halls at Bloomington provide living quarters for over 12,000 single students. Married students have access to over 2,000 apartments and trailers. Additional housing is provided in 18 sororities and 33 fraternities.

Indiana has more than 200,000 living alumni of whom more than half hold degrees. So many alumni — more than 144 — have headed institutions of higher learning; the University is known as "Mother of College Presidents."

The University has been a pioneer in many fields: Among the first state universities (1867) to admit women as students on an equal basis with men; among the first to introduce the elective course of study system (1887) and military training (1840).

The library system contains more than 4,500,000 items. Comprising the University library system are the main library; the Lilly Library; libraries of the regional campuses; school libraries; and collections at housing units in the Halls of Residence system.

Widely known for its research activities in many fields, Indiana is a center for graduate studies. Four graduate programs — Russian, French, Botany and German — rank among the top ten in the nation while 27 other graduate programs have been given national ranking. Its Department of English is ranked among the top half-dozen in the country and the School of Medicine has the largest enrollment in the U.S.

MCQ Readymix with limestone aggregate assures the permanence of Ohio Stadium, completed over 50 years ago, and our limestone is the maintenance-free foundation for the stadium's artificial turf. MCQ products have been used in several other major OSU campus structures, including St. John's Arena and Morrill and Lincoln Towers.

Limestone products enhance opportunities for unique architectural designs, and the purity of limestone helps preserve design attractiveness, as illustrated by Ohio Bell's Southwestern Area Headquarters Building.

The tallest structure in Columbus, the new 650-foot State Office Tower, was constructed with 100 percent crushed limestone concrete from MCQ Industries.

We're helping O.S.U. and Columbus grow.

We're pleased that MCQ products have contributed to the growth of The Ohio State University . . . and to the growth of Central Ohio. For driveways and patios, or expressways and major commercial buildings, MCQ products are specified most often for strength, durability, economy and attractive architecture. 1954 TEAM RETURNS FOR 20th YEAR REUNION

By Marv Homan, Sports Information Director

A favorite topic for Ohio State football fans is, "What is the best Ohio State team you have seen?"

The 1954 team always receives some solid support and without a doubt it is one of the school's finest.

When the 1954 season began optimism was guarded. In 1953 the Buckeyes had been a good team, but still had lost three games.

The opening game proved to be a good indicator of things to come. Ohio State won convincingly over Indiana, 28-0. Nine Buckeye backs, an unusually high figure for one platoon football, carried the ball, as Ohio State dominated throughout. Highlight of the game was when All-American Howard "Hop" Cassady grabbed an Indiana fumble in mid-air, and threaded his way through the surprised Hoosiers 68 yards to score.

The second week saw Ohio State defeat a strong California team 20-13. "Hop" Cassady, with 104 yards in 11 carries and two touchdowns, paced the Buckeye ground game, while quarterback Dave Leggett hit on 7 of 12 passes, including one touchdown.

Ohio State played its first road game of the year against Illinois at Champaign. The powerful Buckeyes overwhelmed the Illini 40-7 and outgained the home team 479 yards to 123. Right halfback Bob Watkins ran for 112 yards in 13 carries and scored twice as the Buckeyes scored in each period. Coach Hayes was afforded the luxury of using his entire travel squad.

A strong and versatile Iowa team was the next opponent. It was a thrilling game, loaded with emotion and hard hitting, but Ohio State emerged the victor, 20-14. Four Buckeyes, quarterback Dave Leggett, fullback Hubert Bobo, right end Dick Brubaker and the new center, Bob Thornton, played the entire 60 minutes. A sophomore guard for Ohio State, Jim Parker, did a superb job against Iowa's Calvin Jones.

If there was a turning point during the thrilling 1954 season, it was October 23, when Wisconsin came to Columbus with one of the top rated teams in the nation. Neither team could score the first period. Diminutive kicking specialist Tad Weed kicked a 32 yard field goal to give the Buckeyes a 3-0 lead. A 33 yard Wisconsin pass put the Badgers on top 7-3 at halftime.

In the third period, Wisconsin started a drive that moved deep into Ohio State territory. A Wisconsin touchdown here would put Ohio State in deep trouble. At this point, one of the memorable plays in Ohio Stadium history occurred. Wisconsin sensed the Buckeye defense was coming up to stop a run. Quarterback John Haluska called for a pass. He thought his receiver Levenhagen was open and released the ball. As the pass was about to settle in Levenhagen's arms a 168 pound defender from Ohio State deftly cut in front of the surprised Badger, intercepted the ball, and started a dazzling 88 yard run through the stunned Badger team. The Buckeye hero was "Hop" Cassady and the run demoralized Wisconsin. What appeared to be a Buckeye defeat suddenly turned into a 31-14 win for Ohio State over the strong Badgers.

The next week saw Ohio State journey to Evanston for a game with Northwestern. The Buckeyes won 14-7 in their least impressive outing of the year. Tenacious defense, a thrilling 31 yard touchdown run by fullback Bobo and a well-executed 24 yard running pass from Leggett to Watkins provided Ohio State with the margin.

The Buckeyes returned to top form the next week against a determined and inspired Pittsburgh team. The Buckeyes were clearly superior and came away a 26-0 victor.

The following Saturday, November 13, saw Ohio State travel to Purdue. Purdue, even in 1954, was known for pulling off startling upsets. Purdue's spirit was willing but Ohio State wasn't about to fall prey. The Buckeyes were rolling in high gear now and the aroused Boilermakers were no match. Purdue succumbed 28-6.

The regular season finale was with you know who. Yes, in 1954, as it has been so often in recent years, the Big Ten championship hinged on the outcome of the Ohio State-Michigan game.

Michigan had to beat Ohio State to tie for the title. A Buckeye win or tie would give Ohio State the outright Big Ten championship.

The game was in Columbus. The temperature was 47 and the skies were overcast. A capacity crowd sat taut with anxiety.

Michigan scored on the first possession and led 7-0. With 3:29 left in the first half, reserve fullback Jack Gibbs intercepted a Wolverine pass and ran it back 45 yards to the Michigan 10. On the next play Leggett passed to Fred Kriss for a score. Weed converted and it was tied 7-7 at halftime.

Michigan mounted a late third period drive to get a first down on the Ohio State 4. With four tries to make four yards and the championship hanging in the balance, Ohio State was in a desperate predicament.

At this point Ohio State accomplished the incredible. Four successive times Michigan sent backs powering into the line and four times Ohio State stopped Wolverine ball carriers short of the goal. Each Buckeye defender was magnificent, but Jim Parker was unbelievable. He was involved in all four tackles with Michigan being repulsed one foot short of the goal.

From the one foot line, Ohio State marched 99 and two-third yards to score the deciding touchdown. The famous drive took 12 plays and was climaxed by Leggett's pass to end Dick Brubaker for the final 9 yards. Another Ohio State touchdown was an anti-climax, as Ohio State defeated Michigan 21-7 for the Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

The Rose Bowl game with Southern California will be best remembered as the "Mud Bowl", for it was played in a torrential downpour from start to finish. The Buckeyes were far superior to Southern Cal, winning 20-7, under the most adverse weather conditions.

The victory in the Rose Bowl climaxed the end of a perfect season for Ohio State. The undefeated Buckeyes were named "National Champions" and those of us who were privileged to see them play each game, thrilled at their skill and execution.

OHIO STATE FOOTBALL COACH –

"WOODY HAYES"

W. W. "Woody" Hayes has been head football coach at The Ohio State University for 23 years. During this period Ohio State football has achieved a degree of excellence unmatched in the University's rich athletic history.

Hayes ranks second among all active major college coaches for most victories, 192. Only Paul "Bear" Bryant has won more. Woody is within eight of the coveted 200 victory total, a milestone reached by only a few college coaches, past or present.

Hayes was born February 14, 1913, at Clifton, Ohio, although he calls Newcomerstown his home. He is a 1935 graduate of Denison University, where he majored in English and history. He played tackle three years and was an outfielder in baseball. He has an M.A. degree from Ohio State in education administration.

His entire coaching career has been within the state of Ohio. He began in 1935 as an assistant at Mingo Junction. His first head coaching job came in 1938 at New Philadelphia High, where, in three seasons, his teams won 19, lost ten and tied one.

A five year stint in the Navy interrupted his coaching career but made a great impact upon his life.

After his discharge, Denison University, his alma mater, gave him his first opportunity to be a head coach in college. The year was 1946. Three years at Denison and two at Miami set the stage for his 1951 debut at Ohio State.

Hayes' record at Ohio State is a remarkable 159 wins, 49 losses and eight ties, a winning percentage of .764, excluding ties. His Buckeye teams have won nine Big Ten championships, six outright and three shared. His Big Ten record is 117-32-7. Since he has coached at Ohio State, the Buckeyes have led the nation in attendance per home game for 21 of the last 23 years.

Numerous honors have been won by Coach Hayes and by his Ohio State teams. He was named "College Coach of the Year" in 1957, and was runnerup for this honor on two other occasions. His teams have won three national championships; won a record 17 straight Big Ten victories two different times (1954-56 and 1967-69); and four Rose Bowl victories. He is past president of the National Football Coaches' Association.

Woody's around-the-clock devotion to football is without parallel. His work-week is seven days and more often than not his daily schedule extends past midnight. Such grueling demands would overwhelm a person 25 years his junior.

Woody has written three books about football, each with a different approach. He has made four trips to Vietnam to talk and visit with service men.

If he has a hobby outside of football it would be history. All periods interest him. Military history holds a special fascination.

He shrugs off mention of relinquishing his coaching duties by saying, "I'll do something else when I find a job I like better." The word "retirement" is not in his vocabulary.

The three qualities that best characterize Woody Hayes are honesty, hard-work and a love of teaching. The latter comes naturally as his father, Wayne Benton Hayes, served as superintendent of schools from 1920 until his death in 1939.

Woody Hayes is many things to many people. He is an era in himself. He is colorful, impatient, unpredictable, generous and unselfish, highly individualistic and deeply patriotic. His coaching career has enjoyed many more peaks than valleys. Success always has been within reach, but controversy is never far away.

As the billboard reads, "In all the world there is only one."

BASKETBALL APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR STUDENTS AND FACULTY STAFF

Starting Monday, students and faculty/staff may pick up applications for season basketball tickets at the St. John Arena Ticket Office.

Applications must be returned, either in person or by mail, between October 21 and November 9 to assure the applicant of a ticket. Season books are $15.

Pick up of the filled order cards is scheduled to begin Monday, Nov. 25 at St. John Arena. The time will be announced later.

Ohio State, with four regulars returning from a year ago, opens its 15 game home season Nov. 30 against Ball State. Six of the Buckeyes first seven games are in St. John Arena, including Ohio University, Virginia Tech and Georgia Tech.

The Buckeyes of coach Fred Taylor play nine Big Ten games at home this year with the opener January 11 against Minnesota and the finale Mar. 8 against defending co-champion Michigan.

All home games begin at 8:05 p.m.

Hoosiers Deep in Ohio Football Talent

By Rick Colglazier, Student Assistant
Indiana University, Athletic Publicity Office

Ohio has perpetually led the country in different product categories such as tires, machine tools, playing cards, business machines and other materials too numerous to mention. Another quality product category that the fact books usually won't mention is the splendid array of football talent developed in the Buckeye state.

Many college coaches have come from coast to coast to scout the vast numbers of outstanding prep players in this state.

Like Indiana's Hoosier Hysteria in basketball, high school football in Ohio has long been considered second to none. One individual reaping the immeasurable benefits of this tradition has been the master tutor himself, Woody Hayes.

Just as in past years, Coach Lee Corso and his staff have done extensive recruiting in this state. During Corso's two seasons at IU, sixteen high caliber athletes have signed tenders to play football at the Hoosier school. An overall breakdown of the squad finds a total of 36 Ohio prep gridders playing for Indiana. This ranks first in the number of players attending Indiana from states outside of Hoosierland.

Indiana will have 12 offensive and defensive starters in today's game who played their high school ball in the Buckeye state.

The Hoosiers will feature a backfield monopolized with former Ohio prepsters. Courtney Snyder, a hard running sophomore from Steubenville, is leading all IU rushers with 520 yards in 119 attempts. Courtney's unique blend of strength, quickness and good balance makes him an exceptional running back. The promising young halfback was picked to the All-Conference and All-State teams while at Steubenville.

The fullback slot is manned by dependable Dennis Cremeens, a former All-Conference, All-District and second team All-State choice from nearby Westland High School. Dennis is a very consistent runner who can get the extra yards needed in clutch situations.

Slowed by a hamstring pull the last two games, Mike Flanagan of Sidney has recovered enough to get the starting nod today. "Flano" was Indiana's second leading receiver in '73 with 33 grabs for 416 yards. Meriting All-State and All-American honors at Sidney, Mike played on three consecutive undefeated teams.

There have been two quarterbacks who have been neck and neck all season long and they're both Ohioans. Terry Jones, a 5-11, 184 pound sophomore out of Cleveland, runs the option well and has a good quick release when he passes. Jones earned All-State honors at Glenville High School, playing in one of the toughest leagues in the state.

Bob Kramer is the other quarterback candidate and he is a product of Elder High School in Cincinnati. The towering 6-6 signal caller has completed 11-18 tosses for 61 percent and has capably proven that he can move the team. Chosen to the All-City and All-Conference team in Football, Kramer was also an All-City and Honorable Mention All-State basketball standout, averaging nearly 18 points per game.

Indiana's massive interior line is also dominated by personnel from Ohio.

Flanking the left side of IU's interior line is Bill Sparhawk, a tough hard-nosed individual who has probably been Indiana's most consistent lineman this year. The former All-Stater from St. Vincent High School in Uniontown, is a two year letterman and has acquired a great deal of experience playing this position.

Holding down the left guard position is Tim Mills, a graduate of Goshen High School in Milford. Mills was switched from tackle to guard this season because of Coach Corso's belief that a much bigger line was needed to compete in the Big Ten. Tim has excellent speed and agility to go with his size. Mills was a three year All-Conference performer at Goshen where he played both full back and middle guard.

Winning All-Conference, All-State and Honorable Mention All-American laurels while at Colonel Crawford High School in Sulphur Springs, Jim Shuck anchors the offense line at center. A two year letterman at guard for IU, Shuck was another player who coaches felt made a successful transition to his new position.

Mammoth Greg McGuire is at the right tackle position. An intimidating 6-4, 282 pounder who loves to hit, McGuire has been a key factor in the offensive line.

A solid nucleus of Ohioans comprise the young but quickly learning defense that will be called upon to make a supreme effort against Woody Hayes' Buckeyes today.

Starting left tackle, Jack Hoffman is a transfer student from Xavier who played his prep ball at St. Xavier in Cincinnati. Hoffman, who started both his freshman and soph year at Xavier before they dropped football, was touted as one of their best players.

Left cornerback Doug Gordon has all the qualities to be a good defensive back. The 5-11, 182 pound junior from Worthington came to IU as a walk-on and his good speed and sound tackling ability tab him as a potentially top-notch defender.

The short and free safety positions will be occupied by former Buckeye prep gridgers Rod Lawson and Willie Wilson respectively.

A former All-Stater from Eastmoor High in Columbus, Lawson is a two year starter in the secondary and rates as one of the hardest tacklers on the team.

Starting free safety Willie Wilson hails from Stebbins High School in Dayton and is one of the talented freshman who is making the challenging transition of playing major college football.

Placekicking chores are handled by Frank Stavroff who is regarded as one of the most improved kickers in the nation. Stavroff, who attended Walnut Ridge High School in Worcester Court, owns a record tying 52 yard field goal against Purdue in 1973. He kicked 15 PAT's and 4 field goals last year without a miss.

Yes, the talent stream of Buckeye high school gridders runs deep and Coach Lee Corso is hoping that his group of Ohio athletes will play a major role in making Indiana a formidable Big Ten contender of the future.

Mike Flanagan was the Hoosiers' second leading receiver last year.

Rod Lawson was a former teammate of Ohio State's Archie Griffin.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY

Building an organization is much like building a football team. You secure key personnel and use good coaching and concentrate on the fundamentals of the game, progress will appear and championship form can be attained.

Here in our agencies, we have key personnel who have done a great job of recruiting quality men and women. Pictured on this page are some of the key personnel who do an excellent job of coaching and guiding our agents into becoming successful, established career life underwriters. This is a career lifetime opportunity. Qualified individuals may be promoted to management. If you are a person who has a competitive background, has been serious about success and truly desires a career — not a job — why not call Mike Murray, C.L.U. or Jerry Porter, the coaches of The Equitable Agencies in Columbus, Ohio.

Lindsey Nelson Plugs College Football

by LINDSEY NELSON

I've been a college football fan all my life.

I like the fact that the product is an original, and it's stamped "Made in America." It started, like our country did, in the East, spread westward, then all over the U.S.A.

First radio and then television enlarged the popularity of college football; and, as a broadcaster, it's been my good fortune to witness a lot of it.

I got to know the Galloping Ghost of the Illini, the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, Little Boy Blue, and Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside.

I have done games witnessed by Harry Truman, Lyndon Johnson, and Jack Kennedy. In fact, I once recreated a football broadcast on tape for Jack Kennedy before he was President (there were no blank spots in our tapes).

He's Been There

I've done 11 seasons of NCAA games on network television, and the Notre Dame telecasts for six seasons. I've done 11 Army-Navy games, 14 Cotton Bowls, five Sugar Bowls and four Rose Bowls.

Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost of the Illini, and I once did a game at his Alma Mater. As we toured the campus, Red pointed to a great open space and said, "That's where I took ROTC instruction. At least I was along for the ride. I was in the cavalry and I had an old horse that wasn't very fast but knew more military than MacArthur."

I once spoke to the New Haven Gridiron Club, and afterwards, someone wanted to know if I'd like to visit the legendary Mory's, "the dear old Temple bar we loved so well." I went with Albie Booth, Yale's "Little Boy Blue."

For me, it's all been one delightful experience, starting when I listened to broadcasts in my home town of Columbia, Tennessee. Later, at the University of Tennessee I was signed on by Coach Bob Neyland as a tutor for scholarship athletes who were deficient in freshman English. That put me in close touch with Neyland over a long stretch. He was probably the greatest defensive coach the game ever knew. It also put me in touch with a lot of great football players, many of whom later became great coaches all across the land.

Tipped Off

Coaches have usually been cooperative in revealing unusual tactics they anticipated using. Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz tipped me off to a Joe Bellino running pass he'd open the game with. (It didn't work.) Bear Bryant told me about a flea-flicker he'd use. (It was completed.) Miami's Andy Gustafson told me how to recognize his quick-kick formation.

Bobby Dodd at Georgia Tech told me about an unbalanced line he'd use against Kentucky to try to spring George Volkert for a long gain. (It worked, and, incidentally, the Kentucky Coach was Blanton Collier assisted by Don Shula.)

Darrell Royal told me about an unbalanced line he'd use against Ole Miss in the Sugar Bowl. (It didn't work.) Red Blaik didn't tell me that just before kickoff he'd switch his Army team to new grey and gold jerseys. You couldn't read a number with a telescope.

Terry Brennan didn't tell me he'd open against Oklahoma with a single wing formation. He may not have told Tailback Paul Hornung either, judging from the speed with which Oklahoma linebacker Jerry Tubbs got Hornung on his shoulder.

It might sound as though I've been doing college football for a long time. But it doesn't seem long. I continue to find in college football the excitement and purpose that are, to me, consistent with the need of ambitious and restless youth to have excitement and purpose.

I've been a college football fan all my life.

Lindsey Nelson

DOUG FRANCE, senior tight end from Dayton. Used occasionally at tight end last year but primarily saw action as a reserve offensive tackle. Moved to tight end in the spring to help bolster the blocking at that spot and became the starter. Has been one of the most pleasant surprises of the season for the Buckeyes. Has two catches, both last week, but more importantly, at 6-6 and 265, he can handle the large defensive tackles and ends. Was an All-American tackle at Colonel White where he also excelled as a wrestler. Has five sisters. Called "Bubba" since high school.

MEET THE BUCKEYES' OFFENSIVE ENDS

MIKE BARTOSZEK, senior, alternate tight end from Erie, Pennsylvania. A graduate of McDowell High School where he earned all-state recognition his senior year. Shared the starting assignment at split end last year with Dave Hazel, but moved to tight end this year when graduation claimed the top three from last year's team. Has eight catches this year for 107 yards and one touchdown. Stands 6-5 and 218 and has the best hands of any receiver on the team. Was an outstanding high and low hurdler in high school. Also earned all-conference honors in basketball at McDowell.

BILL EZZO, senior, reserve, split end from Canastota, New York, who has won two letters for the Buckeyes. Has excellent speed and needs it since he is the lightest and the smallest player on the team at 5-7 and 152. Was a sensation at halfback in high school. Enjoyed a very successful year in 1971 on the Buckeyes' freshman team. Also won two letters as a sprinter on the Ohio State track team. Has run the 60-yard dash in 6.2 seconds. Caught a 55 yard scoring pass last year against Minnesota. Majoring in education at Ohio State. His hobbies are hunting and fishing. Helps his father raise and train horses during the summer.

LARRY KAIN, senior tight end from Dayton. Played defensive end last year and saw action in six games. Was credited with eight tackles, including three stops behind the line of scrimmage in 1973. Moved to tight end last spring to give the Buckeyes some much needed depth. Made his first catch of the season last week against Wisconsin. Has the best speed of the Buckeyes' tight ends and has worked hard on his blocking techniques. Played cornerback as a sophomore and was a top reserve. Captained his high school football team at Dayton Northmont. Admires Dick Butkus and John Brockington.

DAVE HAZEL, senior split end from Xenia. Played in all eleven games last year and had four catches for 121 yards. Already has four receptions this season for 76 yards. Missed all of the 1972 season with an injury and is currently in his fifth year of eligibility. Has fine speed and is an excellent blocker. Has started all five games this season. His longest reception of the year is a 37-yard grab against Minnesota. Wants to enter medical school. His home was among those in Xenia that were damaged by the now infamous tornado which struck April 3.

OHIO STATE SONGS

ACROSS THE FIELD

Fight that team across the field,
Show them Ohio's here,
Set the earth reverberating with a mighty cheer
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Hit them hard and see how they fall;
Never let that team get the ball,
Hail! Hail! the gang's all here,
So let's win that old conference now.

CARMEN OHIO

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship O-hi-o.

BUCKEYE BATTLE CRY

In old Ohio there's a team,
That's known thru-out the land;
Eleven warriors, brave and bold,
Whose fame will ever stand,
And when the ball goes over,
Our cheers will reach the sky,
Ohio Field will hear again

The Buckeye Battle Cry —
Drive! Drive on down the field,
Men of the scarlet and gray;
Don't let them thru that line,
We have to win this game today,
Come on, Ohio!
Smash thru to victory
We cheer you as we go:
Our honor defend
So we'll fight to the end for O Hi o.

Over the years, Zenith color TV has earned a reputation for dependability and picture excellence no other color TV can match.*

And today's Zenith solid-state Chromacolor II backs up that reputation with a combination of features no other color TV can offer.

The famous Chromacolor picture tube that set a new standard of excellence in color TV. A patented Power Sentry voltage regulator that protects components. And a rugged, 100% solid-state modular chassis for long-life dependability.

It's the best way we know to make sure, at Zenith, the quality goes in before the name goes on.®

*For the third straight year, a nationwide survey of independent TV service technicians has named Zenith, by more than 2 to 1 over the next best brand, as the color TV needing fewest repairs. The same survey rated Zenith as the highest-quality color TV, as the one with the best picture, and as the one service technicians would buy for themselves today. Survey details on request.
